Dear Paul,

I'm writing regarding a resolved matter which was addressed with you by then-Father John McCormack back in 1991. There is no new activity and no reason to be concerned.

My reason for writing is purely administrative. Your case has been dormant for so long it would seem fitting to place it storage in the Archives (which are kept strictly confidential). Before doing that I'd like to have the chance to meet with you. It would be important for me to have a current perspective before closing your case.

If you could give me a call when you receive this I would appreciate it. I understand that this letter may stir up some difficult feelings and I regret that. Still, know that this contact is made in the service of making the resolution final.

God's blessings always,
